Summer of '92 Big-Man Camps

Indiana

Georgia

B/C All-Stars has always stressed height — dating back to our second-ever June '78 session that featured the No. 1/2 selections in the 1983 draft: 7-foot-4 Ralph Sampson and 7-foot Steve Stipanovich.

Our 1988 Indiana boys session, for example, highlighted an incredible 81 players 6-foot-7/up!

B/C introduced its Big-Man Camps in 1987 — with immediate success. This summer we will conduct our sixth annual Big-Man sessions July 10-14 in Rensselaer, Indiana, and July 14-18 in Tifton, Georgia. Each session will feature 60 outstanding prospects 6-foot-4/up.

How productive have our first five years of B/C Big-Man been? Well, nearly 50% of the campers in every session have advanced to Division I programs!

Players will participate in a wide variety of drills (see box, bottom left). Approximately 15 stations will accent offense, defense, rebounding, etc. League play stressing 4-on-4 and 3-on-3 operates both afternoons and nights. Additional features include weight-training, high-powered lectures and academic presentations.

Highlight of the camps will be appearances by prominent NBA big men. NBA stars like 6-11 Bill Laimbeer of the Pistons and 6-8 Rodney McCray of the Mavericks visit B/C Big-Man frequently.

Also participating will be select college post players from across the U.S. Lakers' No. 1 1990 draft pick 6-11 Elden Campbell and Pacers' No. 1 1991 draft pick 6-10 Dale Davis worked with our campers as collegians, for example.

Among this summer's expected college counselors is Clemson's 6-10 ACC All-Rookie rebounding sensation Sharone Wright.

B/C's Big-Man sessions represent a unique opportunity for players 6-4/up to compete against top-of-the-line tall players — and learn from NBA All-Stars at the same time.

It's fact: B/C and size go together — 110 current NBA players have attended B/C including 13 7-footers and 75 6-6/ups!

Utah Jazz 6-9 power forward Karl Malone, the NBA's No. 2 scorer (28) & No. 6 rebounder (12), greeted by B/C Director Bill Bolton at Georgia '89.

Big-Man Game Plan

Station drills will stress:

- Offensive post moves
- Shooting (hook/baseline J)
- Ball-receiving and passing
- Rebounding (offense/defense)
- Outlet and fast-break play
- Defending the post

The B/C bonus package:

- Lectures by NBA stars
- Individual NBA instruction
- 4-on-4/3-on-3 league play
- In-depth weight training
- Academic attention (SAT)
- Measurements and testing
